美国政界也不干净，美国密苏里州州长格雷滕斯被圣路易斯市大陪审团指控犯有侵犯隐私罪。

Missouri Governor Eric Greitens has been indicted by a St. Louis grand jury on a felony charge of invasion of privacy.

The charge stems from a 2015 affair and allegations that he threatened to release a nude photograph of the woman, taken while she was blindfolded and her hands were bound, if she ever spoke publicly about the affair.

Greitens denied he resorted to blackmail, but admitted to an affair with his hairdresser after it was made public by a St. Louis television station last month, prompting St. Louis Circuit Attorney Kim Gardner to launch an investigation.

The indictment accuses Greitens of not only knowingly photographing the woman, but also transmitting the image "in a manner that allowed access to that image via a computer."

The penalty for first-degree invasion of privacy in Missouri is up to four years in prison.
